

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

FOR THE

U.S. QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENT.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR,

FOR USE IN THE

ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON:
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE,
1897.

WAR DEPARTMENT,

Document No. 29.

OFFICE OF THE QUARTERMASTER GENERAL.

Q 11-200-07 2 15.

WAR DEPARTMENT, December 28, 1896.

This Manual for the Quartermaster's Department is published for the information and guidance of all concerned; it will not be modified except by specific authority given in each case.

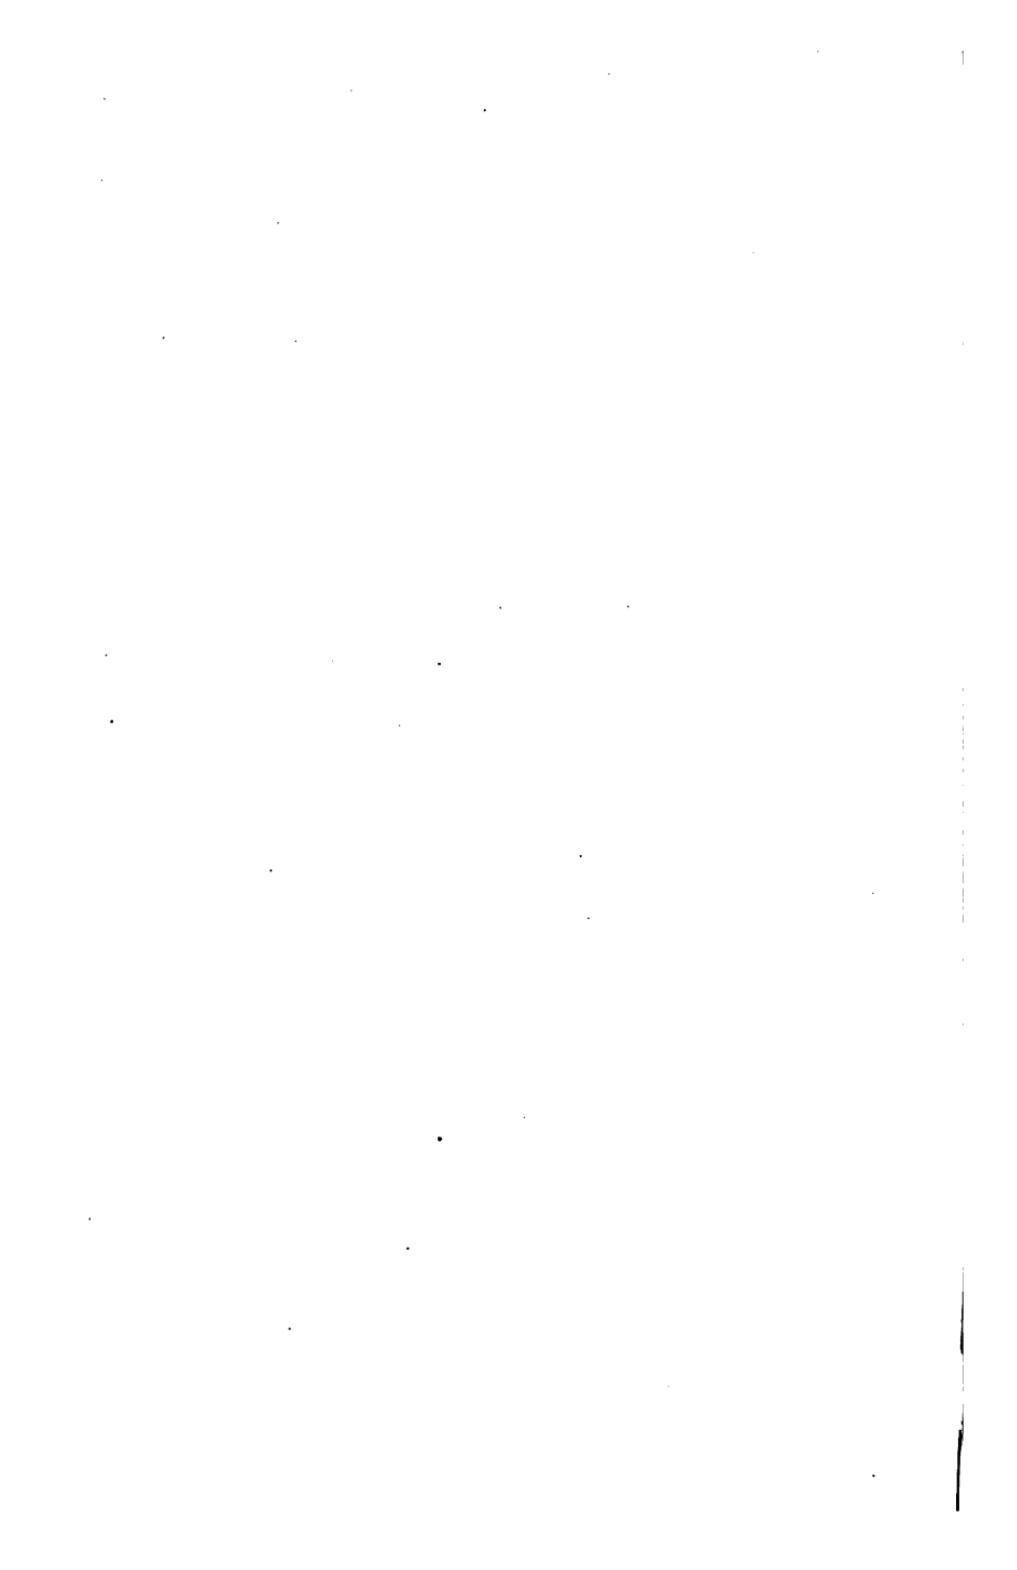

DANIEL S. LAMONT,
Secretary of War.

MANUAL FOR THE QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENT.

1. References to paragraphs of Army Regulations that have an important bearing upon the duties of the Quartermaster's Department are stated in this manual, and each reference is followed by the supplementary rules that apply.

For the general duties of the Quartermaster's Department see A. R. 972-975. For the general rules relating to barracks and quarters see A. R. 976-997.

2. Under A. R. 978 the inspection and estimate of repairs needed for steam or hot-water heating systems will be made in the spring as soon as possible after the fires are out for the season. The annual estimate for steam and hot-water heating and for plumbing will not prevent the making of quarterly or special estimates when rendered necessary.

Estimates for steam and hot-water heating systems, sewer system (including plumbing), and water supply will be made under separate heads, and, under each, repairs and new work will be stated separately with detailed statement showing necessity for same. Estimates for cooking and other heating apparatus will be made separately from the foregoing.

FUEL AND STOVES.

(See A. R. 998-1011.)

3. The allowance of fuel for hospital kitchen, civilian employees, telegraph office, blacksmith, carpenter, and saddler shops, pump house, and other necessary fires for which no fixed allowance is stated in A. R. 1006, is such as may be authorized by the Quartermaster General on application made through military channels.

6 MANUAL FOR THE QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENT.

4. Fuel for an ice machine must be procured by purchase out of the hospital fund; sale by the quartermaster, at cost, is authorized.

For rules relating to illuminating supplies see A. R. 1012-1022.

STATIONERY.

(See A. R. 1023-1027.)

5. A lieutenant temporarily in command of a company is not deprived of his personal allowance of stationery.

6. The allowance of lead pencils stated in A. R. 1024 is a quarterly allowance.

7. Post and company record books furnished by the Quartermaster's Department are issued and dropped from the quartermaster's return on quarterly and special requisitions approved by the post commander. They are not accounted for by the adjutant or company commander who makes the requisition. Stationery for the post school is issued in like manner on requisition made by the officer in charge and approved by the post commander.

8. Newspapers and periodicals are supplied to military post libraries under A. R. 310, from an annual allowance of $20 to a one-company post, and an additional allowance of $5 for each additional company. When a post is abandoned, or a permanent change made in the strength of its garrison, an equitable distribution of the reading matter thus furnished will be made in conformity with this allowance.

For rules relating to public animals see A. R. 1028-1040.

FORAGE AND STRAW.

(See A. R. 1041-1049.)

9. When forage is purchased for a train en route, the certificate of the officer in charge of the train will cover such purchases.

10. Forage for the hospital cows may be sold by the Quartermaster's Department from stock on hand, or to be delivered under contract, whenever it can be spared.

PRINTING.

(See A. R. 500-514.)

11. Lists of newspapers officially designated are not published. Officers, in requesting authority, will recommend the papers in which they desire to advertise.

PURCHASE OF SUPPLIES AND ENGAGEMENT OF SERVICES.

(For the general rules see A. R. 515-519.)

12. When supplies or services become necessary and expenditure of funds in payment therefor has not been authorized, it is the duty of the quartermaster to apply to the Quartermaster General, through military channels (see A. R. 764), for such authority, stating necessity, estimated cost, and all other information necessary for a full understanding of the case. The same applies in cases of emergency and in cases of expenditure caused by orders of the commanding officer (see A. R. 653 and 1) or others who have not authority to allot for the purpose funds pertaining to the Quartermaster's Department.

ADVERTISING FOR PROPOSALS.

(See A. R. 520-524.)

13. When advertisements announce fixed standards for articles required by naming those of specific kind or manufacture, with the words "or equal" added, the purchasing officer is the proper person to decide whether the articles offered are equal to those named; he is required to certify that he has made the award to the lowest responsible bidder for the best and most suitable article, and in purchasing an article different from one named he must satisfy himself that it fulfills these conditions.

14. Under A. R. 524, the copy of advertisement and specifications will not be forwarded to the Quartermaster General at the time of issuing except when specially called for. In case of advertisement by circular or poster, and written acceptance without formal contract, they will be filed with vouchers to which they pertain and forwarded with monthly accounts, as required by A. R. 633. In case of formal contract they will be filed and forwarded with the contract unless they have been specially called for and already forwarded.

For rules relating to proposals see A. R. 525-541; awards, A. R. 542-548; abstracts of proposals, A. R. 539-541 and 548; methods of purchase, A. R. 549-558.

15. The dissolution of a partnership and its merger into a corporation do not terminate a contract made with the United States. Its dissolution affects only things future and not those past or existing at the time of the dissolution, and it is, therefore, in contemplation of law, still in existence for the purpose of carrying out its unfulfilled contract, and unless inability or failure of the copartnership to carry out its contract, or an attempt to assign or transfer the same, in contravention of R. S. 3737, can be shown, the corporation can not be recognized, and the contract should be carried out by the copartnership and payments made to it upon the customary vouchers.

16. While the Government is not obliged to recognize the assignee of a contract, and may annul the contract because of the assignment, the materials to be delivered or the services to be performed under the contract may be accepted from the assignee as if ordered in open market without formal contract, leaving any rights which the United States may have against the contractor for a failure to complete his contract to be determined when the period covered by the contract has expired.

17. When the necessity for work not contracted for is developed during the performance of a contract, and the interests of the Government can best be subserved by having such work performed by the contractor, it should be proceeded with as an extra under the contract, a separate agreement (Form 96a) being made for the purpose. Application will be made for authority to act or for approval of action taken, fully explaining the nature of the case.

CONTRACTORS' BONDS.

(See A. R. 559-565.)

18. Under A. R. 565 the copy of the contract and bond must be certified by the Secretary of War under the seal of the War Department, if intended for use in evidence.

For rules relating to oral agreements and reports of purchases see A. R. 566-569; bonds of disbursing officers and contractors and guaranties of bidders, A. R. 571-578.

MONEY ACCOUNTABILITY.

(See A. R. 579-656.)

19. Every money voucher should have expressed on its face the specific appropriation from which paid and should show the purpose of the expenditure in such terms as will determine the proper appropriation.

20. Certificates of deposit on account of sales of quartermaster's supplies to officers, enlisted men, or exploring or surveying expeditions authorized by law, or to other Departments of the Government, should show upon their face the specific appropriations, amount pertaining to each, the fiscal year to which the funds belong, and the month or period in which such sales occurred. When the depositary has failed to enter upon the face of the duplicate certificate furnished the depositor all the required information, the depositor will prepare in duplicate a memorandum slip containing the desired details, forward one to the Quartermaster General and attach the other to the duplicate certificate, which he will file with his retained account current.

21. Disbursing officers of the War Department, in making deposits to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States as repayments of disbursing funds, are directed not to draw checks upon Assistant Treasurers in favor of national-bank depositaries, but will, instead, make such deposits with the Assistant Treasurers.

22. There is no authority for the transfer of the money value of stores or other property furnished or transferred by one bureau to another in the same Department, or by one Department of the Government to another, where the effect would be to reopen appropriations closed on the books of the Treasury.

23. Proceeds of sales at auction of quartermaster's supplies when deposited as required by A. R. 615, should be taken up on the account current under the head of "Miscellaneous receipts," and not credited to specific appropriations.

24. When it becomes necessary for a disbursing officer of the Quartermaster's Department to apply for a decision of the Comptroller of the Treasury upon any question involving a payment to be made by him, the application, setting forth the question submitted for decision, will be sent through the Quartermaster General.

25. An officer disbursing funds pertaining to more than one staff department will, in issuing a check, confine the designation of his official capacity to his rank and the staff department to which the check belongs.

For rules relating to reward for capture of escaped general prisoner, see A. R. 128.

CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES.

(See A. R. 724-735.)

26. Accounts for reimbursement for traveling expenses of civilian employees must be supported by copies of the orders under which journeys were performed and by itemized statements under oath showing expenditures incurred each day. Traveling expenses are not allowed for journeys made on change of station, whether transportation is allowed or not.

For rules relating to traveling expenses of veterinary surgeons, see A. R. 730.

CARE OF AND ACCOUNTABILITY FOR PROPERTY.

(See A. R. 1060-1064.)

27. Articles of quartermaster's supplies which do not become fixtures, or do not lose their identity in use, and can be preserved, will not be dropped from returns as "expended."

For general rules relating to public property accountability and responsibility, see A. R. 657-702; boards of survey, 708-723; staff administration, 736-747; tools and materials for exchanges, gymnasiums, bowling alleys, etc., 311; storehouses, sheds, paulins, etc., for Subsistence Department, 1247; hospital buildings and quarters for hospital stewards, 1424-1430.

INVENTORIES OF PROPERTY FOR CONDEMNATION.

28. The officer accountable for quartermaster's supplies at a station will make the inventory of unserviceable property required by A. R. 879. An officer who holds property on memorandum receipt will, when property becomes unserviceable, return it to the quartermaster, who, at the proper time, will submit such accumulations to an inspector. In the case of cavalry or artillery horses that should remain in the hands of the cavalry or artillery officer until disposed of, such officers will, when animals become unserviceable, notify the quartermaster and furnish him with all the information necessary to make a proper inventory. When it is not practicable to return the property to the quartermaster, as may rarely happen, the officer holding the property will make the inventories.

For rules concerning horses of mounted officers, see A. R. 1065-1069; ambulances, 1415; hand litters, 1417.

TRANSPORTATION.

(For the general rules see A. R. 1070-1079.)

29. Under A. R. 1072, the lowest rates offered for the most suitable transportation will be accepted. Section 22 of the Interstate Commerce Act provides that "nothing in the act shall prevent the carriage, storage, or handling of property free, or at reduced rates, for the United States."

TRANSPORTATION OF PERSONS.

(See A. R. 1080-1084.)

30. If transportation over Canadian routes can be procured at lower rates than by other lines, it may be furnished over such routes, but not to organized forces under command.

31. The cost of transporting a deserter and the guard to the station of the deserter's company or place of trial (A. R. 126), the reward (A. R. 124), and any expenses of pursuit (A. R. 125), being in most cases chargeable to the deserter, the quartermaster who furnishes the transportation will report the actual or probable cost thereof to the commander of the company or detachment to which the deserter belonged, and the officer who pays this account, the reward, or expenses of pursuit, will furnish like notifications of the amounts paid.

For transportation of civilian witnesses, see A. R. 72; of soldiers returning from furlough, A. R. 110 and 1082; of discharged soldiers, A. R. 158.

TRANSPORTATION REQUESTS.

(See A. R. 1085-1106.)

32. In issuing requests for transportation over railroads, quartermasters will stamp or write upon the face of each request covering a continuous journey beyond initial road, the following: "Furnish through limited ticket."

For rules relating to ferries, turnpikes, bridges, and street cars, see A. R. 1107 and 1108.

SLEEPING CAR.

(See A. R. 1109-1117.)

33. For a journey of more than one night's duration, sleeping-car accommodations furnished for invalid soldiers should be given for day as well as night travel, on the certificate of a medical officer showing the necessity therefor.

TRANSPORTATION OF BAGGAGE AND SUPPLIES.

(See A. R. 1118-1128.)

34. An officer's change of station allowance of personal property should be transported by the Quartermaster's Department from his quarters or residence at his old to the same at his new station.

TRANSPORTATION FOR OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

(See A. R. 1129-1132.)

35. At the request of the Secretary of Agriculture, no demand for shipment of material on account of the Agricultural Department will be honored unless made over the signature of the Secretary of Agriculture, or that of the Chief of the Division of Accounts.

100-190-11

36. Under A. R. 1129, accounts payable by the Navy Department should be forwarded to the Quartermaster General without the signature to the receipt of the party to whom the accounts are payable. Bills of lading on which shipments for the Navy Department are made should have noted on their face the naval bureau concerned, the appropriation from which the freight charges are payable, the number of the requisition or order authorizing the shipment, and the shipment number given by the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts.

37. Transportation will be furnished, under A. R. 1129, for freight received from officers or agents of the National Home of Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, Hartford, Conn.

BILLS OF LADING.

(See A. R. 1133-1160.)

38. Dates of shipment, as expressed in bills of lading, and not dates of accomplishment, determine the fiscal year from which payment should be made.

LAND-GRANT AND BOND-AIDED RAILROADS.

(See A. R. 1161 and 1162, and G. O. 77, A. G. O., 1892.)

39. Whenever practicable and more economical to do so, shipments of Government freight will be made over railroads that have received aid in bonds or lands from the United States.

40. Where transportation is required over a land-grant or bond-aided road that has leased the use of its track to another road, it will be ordered from the land-grant or bond-aided company.

CLOTHING AND EQUIPAGE.

(See A. R. 1163-1205.)

For rules relating to equipage for post and police purposes, see A. R. 454-456.

41. No property will be turned into the general depots of the Quartermaster's Department unless authority from the Quartermaster General has been first obtained.

42. Whenever gold-lace chevrons are needed, a special requisition should be made; they should not be included in the periodical estimates.

43. The measurements of the different sizes of articles of clothing are printed on Form No. 57.

44. Clothing for prisoners, under A. R. 180 and 1193, will be issued by the quartermaster on requisitions made by the officer in charge of prisoners and approved by the post commander. No return for this clothing will be made after issue. Other necessary quartermaster's supplies for the use of prisoners will be furnished and accounted for as indicated in A. R. 1053. Blankets and bedding in use by a prisoner will not be given to him upon release from confinement, but will be held for the use of others.

45. Under the Act for arming and equipping the militia, the regulation uniforms for the United States troops may properly be issued as quartermaster's stores, and cloth, kersey, etc., may be issued for making the regulation uniform and for this purpose only.

46. There is no authority for sale of clothing to civilian employees.

47. Requisitions for colors and guidons should state whether new staffs are to be furnished also. Waterproof covers are furnished with silken colors, standards, and guidons, to protect them from damage. In drying colors that have been exposed to the rain they should be hung so that the water will run off straight down the stripes in order to prevent the scarlet from running into the white.

48. Through patriotic sentiment condemned flags are never sold.

49. All requisitions for tents should show number and kind on hand, their condition, and the number to which the garrison is entitled under existing orders.

50. Under A. R. 1201, musical instruments of domestic production only will be supplied. Requisitions should show what instruments are in the possession of the band, and their make and condition; whether they were purchased from the regimental fund or furnished by the Quartermaster's Department, and the particular make of the instruments desired.

51. Brooms and brushes issued for use under A. R. 1203 and 1204 are entered on Abstract I and dropped from the returns.

52. Company marking stamps should not be estimated for when missing parts which can be obtained upon requisition will render the set fit for use.

TELEGRAPHING AND TELEPHONING.

(See A. R. 1206-1217, and G. O. 77, A. G. O., 1892.)

53. The rates of charges published for guidance in preparing telegraph accounts are those fixed by the Postmaster General. Existing rates are published in G. O. 38, A. G. O., 1894. The authority accepted by the Western Union Telegraph Company as determining whether words are properly connected by a hyphen is Webster's Dictionary.

For rules relating to targets for artillery practice, see A. R. 355.

EXTRA AND SPECIAL DUTY MEN.

(See A. R. 163-172.)

54. Enlisted men detailed under A. R. 164 will be reported on extra duty if receiving increased compensation from the United States. Under A. R. 165 an enlisted man is entitled to extra-duty pay if the labor performed is as nearly continuous as is consistent with his other duties, whether performed all in one month or part in one month and the residue in the succeeding month; the pay should be made up on the receipt roll for the month in which he completes the ten days' labor. A. R. 171 applies to extra-duty men employed as laborers and mechanics, and does not apply to school-teachers, clerks, watchmen, superintendents, engineers, firemen, teamsters, and others whose services may be required at any and all hours, and those who are not engaged in physical labor.

RECORDS, RETURNS, AND REPORTS.

(See A. R. 1218-1225.)

55. Money and property accounts and returns forwarded to the Quartermaster General will be accompanied by letters of transmittal enumerating papers inclosed and stating the number of inclosures.

56. Use of the typewriter may be made in correspondence and records, but words or figures not printed on vouchers or returns should be written with the pen, and so in all cases that carry with them money or property accountability.

57. The use of registered mail, in forwarding returns, etc., is forbidden.

58. Each officer of the Quartermaster's Department and every officer performing duty as quartermaster will render to the Quartermaster General at the end of each calendar month a personal report, giving his station, post-office address, and duty during the month. When a change of station occurs, the date of leaving one and joining the other will be given, also the date of commencement of and return from leave of absence or absence on duty (see also A. R. 805). Each post quartermaster sergeant will render a personal report at the end of each calendar month, giving his station and duty. This report will be indorsed and forwarded as required by A. R. 102. Blanks for these reports will be furnished by the Quartermaster General upon application.

59. In statements of charges against enlisted men on muster rolls, the names of the articles must be given; designating them as quartermaster's supplies is not sufficient.

60. In the preparation of estimates of funds the entries will be made in accordance with the following, which is substituted for the form published in G. O. 55, A. G. O., 1884:
